POUNDMASTER AND DEPUTY WORK UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Louis Ringue, the new poundmaster, who is making a record for efficiency, and his deputy, F. B. Holt, had a strenuous time last Saturday, according to the story told in Judge E. E. Cunningham's court Monday, when Joseph Ferrario, Cilada Ferrario, his wife, and Rose Ferrario, his sister-in-law, were haled up before the judge on a charge of resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty. Ringue and Holt had seen a young heifer tied in the alley back of 445 Commercial avenue several times, and as she was obstructing the way, decided Saturday to take her up. As they started away with the animal, Cilada Ferrario descended upon them like a cyclone and struck Hoyt with a broom. Then Ferrario and the other woman arrived and for a few minutes things went around and around in excellent imitation of the cyclone aforesaid. When the dust cleared away it was found that the heifer had been rescued and securely locked in the barn. Judge Cunningham fined Ferrario $10 and the two women $5 each, in addition to which Ferrario was forced to pay the poundmaster his fee of $6.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Slovak Girl in National Dress.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.) Czechoslovakia, which has recently lifted a ban against the importation of American cotton, may thus become one of the first of the Central European countries to start in motion the stream of products between America and that portion of the world.

Because it is a colorful country with quaint people and customs and costumes, observers have often written almost exclusively of these phases of life in the new nation. But it is also industrially of great importance. This is especially true of the Czech part, which is usually called Bohemia. It was the workshop of Austria-Hungary. If you saw an Austrian velvet hat on Broadway or an Austrian-made Turkish fez beside the Golden Horn, the chances were four to one that it was produced in what is now Czechoslovakia since four-fifths of the industries of the former Hapsburg monarchy were concentrated there.

Textiles formed the largest group of prewar industrial products, and made the country an important customer for the cotton exported from our southern states. It is estimated that about one million bales of cotton are required each year to keep the Czechoslovakian textile factories busy. The textile industry is centered at Bratislava, which is Czechoslovakia's main port on the Danube, to which vessels of a thousand tons can come at all seasons. In spite of the financial difficulties of Central Europe a market for the finished product seems assured. Every country in Central Europe needs textiles.

Skoda Works Transformed. The great Skoda munition works at Pilsen, the main source of Austro-Hungarian war materials, were as famous in their way as the Krupp factories at Essen, Germany. They are still fully capable of making some of the most powerful of war engines, but in these days of peace for Czechoslovakia there has been a striking transformation. While guns and swords are not literally being beaten into plowshares, the machinery which has turned out every variety of ordnance in the past is now busily engaged in making tools, locomotives, car wheels, printing presses, and various other implements of industry, transportation, and enlightenment.

Bohemia is known, too, for its glass. One of the important centers of glass factories is what a younger generation of geography students were taught to call Carlsbad, one of the world's best known watering places. The town's new Czechoslovakian name is Karlovy Vary, a change which to the outsider seems very much like the deliberate destruction of a valuable trade-mark. Czechoslovakian glass is best known, perhaps, by two special products, the so-called amethyst glass and emerald glass.

Sugar, Beer and Water. In the northern portion of the republic, near large fields of sugar beets, are located numerous sugar factories which turn out large quantities of this product. Before the war about $10,000,000 worth of sugar was sent out annually from the territory which now constitutes Czechoslovakia. One of the most recent suggestions for facilitating the export of American cotton to Czechoslovakia is that sugar from that country be exchanged for the cotton.

The name alone of Pilsen (now Plzen) tells in part the story of another important industry of Czechoslovakia. It is the raising of hops, the preparation of malt and the brewing of the famous Pilsner and other beers. Both the raw materials and the finished products have always been exported in large quantities. An industry that may seem in a way a striking contrast to that of brewing, is the sale of waters from the famed springs of the new republic. Bottling mineral water may not sound like a big industry but the mineral waters of the Bohemian and Moravian health resorts are widely sold. One peculiar thing in traveling in Europe is that on the restaurant cars one is forced to drink the mineral water of the country through which he is passing.

Slovakian Paper Industry.

Slovakia is not so highly organized along industrial lines as is Bohemia but it has vast forests and already there are many paper mills, some of them still running under the old Hungarian names. But these are all small affairs and so far the paper and wood pulp industry has not been developed to anything like the proportions which could be reached in a stable, industrious Europe. In Slovakia, too, one may see bentwood chairs being made for the American market.

Czechoslovakia is short of coal but this may be a good thing in the long run, for Slovakia is one vast storehouse of hydraulic power and there is enough unused water power among the Slovakian hills and in the fashionable high Tatras region to run all the factories that are likely to be started for a long time to come. The Tatras mountains are rivals of the Swiss Alps for scenery. There the wealth and aristocracy of Hungary have been accustomed to go for generations for mountain-climbing and other outdoor recreations.

While Bohemia, the land of the Czechs, is predominantly an industrial country, Slovakia, the home of the Slovak portion of the partnership is at present chiefly agricultural. There are to be found the quaintest and most artistic of the peasant costumes of the republic, which are a never-ending delight. The men wear white shirts, embroidered at wrists and throat and faultlessly laundered, a thickly braided vest, wide white trousers, high boots, and a round topped hat circled by a wide figured band.

How the Women Dress.

The women run the whole gamut of color and a group of them makes a picture on which the eye must linger. Their skirts of plain black reach only a few inches below the knees. Just below the waist is a line of fine embroidery. Their stockings are thick and serviceable. Some have small square colored designs knitted into the dull black. Their shoes are stout and usually high cut. High soft leather boots are worn by some. The jacket which reaches to the waist may also be plain except for an applique design of hand-made lace.

Where then is the colorfulness of the women's costumes? It is in the gay and striking head-dress and apron. White and red are the favorite colors for the head shawls, but the aprons—the real adornment for which the other clothes seem merely the background—are every color under heaven—bright green, changeable to gold; yellow with a silver overlight, pink, blue, cerise and all the other colors that feminine fancy may choose. When a few hundred of these gaily-colored aprons are displayed in one moving picture, the scene is a charming one indeed.

The hand-work that of old was put upon women's costumes, utilizing as its materials home-made vegetable dyes, produced artistic results. But with the growth of industrialism less and less of this old-fashioned work is being done. Aniline dyes are being substituted and machinery is being called upon to turn out its products quickly and in great volume. The factories, too, are attracting to the towns the women who would have engaged in the home work. Thus gradually the arts of the past are being lost.

Even from the tiny villages of Slovakia, hitherto the stronghold of rural customs, young girls are going to the cities. They have neither time nor energy to do the fine needlework that made their mother's costumes things of beauty, nor money to purchase similar clothes made by others. They are coming more and more to wear white hats with wide brims, spotlessly white dresses, and white stockings and slippers. These newer costumes are charming but lack the beauty and individuality of the old.

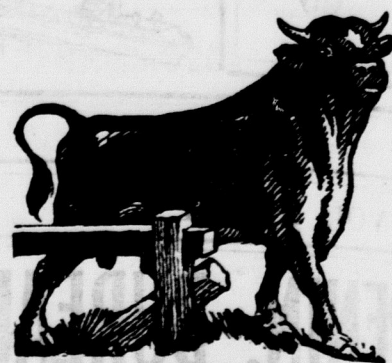

PIONEER RESIDENT OF MILLBRAE PASSES AWAY AT HER HOME

Mrs. Theresa Gouzenes, a pioneer resident of Millbrae, died at her home in that town Saturday. The deceased was one of the best-known residents of the community, having resided there for over thirty years.

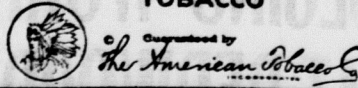

Mrs. Gouzenes was 63 years of age at the time of her death. She leaves two sons, Peter and George Gouzenes, and three daughters, Rose and Theresa Gouzenes and Mrs. Louise Olcese, all of Millbrae. Peter Gouzenes is a prominent building contractor, while Miss Rose Gouzenes is chief operator for the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in South San Francisco.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the chapel of George W. Snider & Co. in San Mateo. Mass was celebrated at St. Bruno's Church in San Bruno. Interment was held at Holy Cross Cemetery.

Jenny Wren Spoiless Food Stores

Jenny Wren Stores prove that groceries CAN be clean

Legislation, induced by public demand, has in the past twenty years made wonderful progress toward cleanliness in the manufacture of foodstuffs—yet many of the old-style groceries are as they were fifty years ago. If cleanliness in the production is demanded, why not in the distribution as well?

Jenny Wren Stores are clean—spotlessly clean—a feature that appeals to many thoughtful people as strongly as do the 10% to 25% economies made available by the Jenny Wren system of merchandising. Just compare these prices with what you have been paying:

PRACTICAL RECIPES

BISCUITS NEVER GO BEGGING WHEN THEY ARE WELL MADE

Hot biscuits and butter, hot biscuits and honey, or hot biscuits and marmalade—no one's face except a confirmed dyspeptic's could help but brighten at the sight of a plate of them on the table if they are what proper biscuits should be—tender, flaky, and well baked.

Biscuits are not difficult to make when a few important points are kept in mind. These are to use a good recipe, to mix as quickly as possible after the baking powder is moistened, to have the dough just sticky enough to handle, and to bake in a rather hot oven.

The following recipes for making biscuits are recommended by food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Plain Baking Powder Biscuit

2 cups sifted flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
2 tablespoons shortening.
1/2 to 3/4 cup liquid (milk, water, or equal parts of each).

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Cut or chop the shortening into the flour with a knife or a cookie cutter until well distributed. Finally, if necessary, rub the mixture between the tips of the fingers until it is like meal. Add just enough cold liquid to make a soft dough that can be handled on the board, mixing with a knife if possible. Mix quickly and handle the dough very lightly. Place it on a floured board, roll to the thickness of one-half inch, and cut into desired shape. Place the biscuits on a baking sheet or in shallow tins dusted lightly with flour and bake in a rather hot oven for ten or fifteen minutes or until thoroughly baked.

Drop Biscuits

To save time in preparation or when no cutter is at hand, the dough may be made somewhat softer than above and dropped on the tin by spoonfuls about one-half inch apart. The mixture, though soft, should be stiff enough not to spread on the tin, yet soft enough so that the biscuits when baked have a smooth, rounded surface rather than a rough, lumpy one. If desired, the top may be brushed with milk or smoothed gently with a knife dipped into water or milk. Bake as above.

These "emergency" or drop biscuits are not quite like the rolled ones, yet if of the proper consistency they are equally good. Indeed, some excellent judges of pastry insist that they are always a little more tender.

Sour Milk Biscuit

2 1/2 cups sifted flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1/2 teaspoon baking soda.
1 teaspoon baking powder.
2 tablespoons shortening.

About 3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk. Sift together the flour, salt, baking powder, and soda. Cut or chop in the shortening, add the sour milk, and mix as usual. Bake thoroughly in a hot oven for about ten to twelve minutes. Be sure that the milk is sufficiently sour to neutralize all the soda.

If desired, a drop biscuit may be made, using about one cup of the sour milk for mixing and one-half teaspoon soda.

Potato Biscuit

2 cups sifted flour.
1 teaspoon salt.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
1 cup mashed potato (sweet or Irish).
3 tablespoons shortening.
Liquid sufficient to mix.

Sift together the flour, salt, and baking powder. Cut or rub into this the cold shortening. In the same way rub into this flour mixture the mashed potato. Finally, add just enough cold liquid to make the mass cling together. Do not knead. Place on floured board, roll until one-third inch thick, and cut into rounds. Place these in lightly floured biscuit tins and bake for fifteen to twenty minutes in a moderately hot oven. Bake all potato breads more slowly than those made with flour alone.

SALADS FOR THOSE WHO LIKE CHEESE

Cheese often makes a delicious addition to a salad. The following recipes for salads in which cheese plays an important part are recommended.

Cheese Jelly Salad

1 tablespoon gelatin.
1/2 cup grated cheese.
1 cup whipped cream.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Mix the cheese with the whipped cream, season to taste with salt and pepper, and add to the gelatin dissolved in a scant cup of water. This may be molded in either large or small molds. When the jelly begins to harden, cover with grated cheese. The jelly should be served on a lettuce leaf, preferably with a cream or French dressing to which a little grated cheese has been added.

Cheese and Pimiento Salad

Stuff canned pimientos with cream cheese, cut into slices, and serve one or two slices to each person on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese and Tomato Salad

Stuff cold tomatoes with cream cheese and serve on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese Salad and Preserves

Epicures have devised a dish which consists of lettuce and French dressing served with cream cheese and thick preparations of currants or other fruits preserved in honey or sugar. Owing to the fact that the seeds have been extracted by a laborious process, these fruit preparations are fairly expensive. The soft cheese found in market is also relatively expensive. There is a suggestion in this dish, however, for others which are much less costly. Ordinary cottage cheese served with lettuce or other green salad and a small amount of rich, home-made preserves, is a combination with much the same character, and very appetizing.

Deviled Eggs With Cheese

In making deviled eggs, either to be eaten alone or upon lettuce leaves in the form of salad, a little grated cheese may be mixed with the yolks in addition to the usual salad dressing and flavorings.

Plain Cheese Salad

Cut cheese into thin pieces, scatter them over lettuce leaves, and serve with French dressing.

Olive and Pimiento Cheese

Mash any of the soft cream cheeses and add chopped olives and pimientos in equal parts. This mixture requires much salt to make it palatable, the amount depending chiefly on the quantity of pimientos used. The mixture may be spread between thin slices of bread, or it may be made into a roll or molded, cut into slices, and served on lettuce leaves with French dressing.

Cheese balls are often served with salad. They are made of soft cream cheese, and are frequently combined with chopped chives, olives, sweet peppers, and nuts. Cooked egg yolk, spinach extract, etc., are sometimes

OATMEAL BREAD AND CAKES NEVER GO BEGGING

Oatmeal, commonly thought of as a breakfast food, makes delicious bread and cakes. The following recipes for its use are recommended by food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Oatmeal Bread

1 cup milk or water.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup rolled oats.
2 1/2 cups wheat flour.
1/2 yeast cake.

Scald the liquid, add salt and pour over the oats, cool for half an hour, add the yeast mixed with one-fourth cup lukewarm water, and the flour. Knead and let rise until double the size. Knead again and let rise in the pan until the size is doubled. Bake in a moderate oven for fifty minutes. This makes one loaf weighing 1 1/2 pounds.

Speed Oatmeal Cakes

1 1/2 cups flour.
1/2 cup cooked oatmeal.
1/2 cup sugar.
1/4 cup raisins.
1/4 cup molasses.
1/2 teaspoon baking soda.
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon powder.
3 tablespoons fat.

Heat the molasses and fat to boiling. Mix with all the other materials. Bake in muffin pans for thirty minutes. This makes twelve cakes.

If two women were saying goodbye and the house caught afire, both would be in danger of being burned to death before either would concede the other the last word.

mixed in for the sake of color. If the balls are rolled in chopped chives or parsley, both flavor and color are supplied.

WHAT, DO YOU THINK, IS A WELL-FURNISHED HOUSE?

Well-furnished houses are not cluttered up with things which may be useful or attractive in themselves, but which nobody uses or enjoys. They are, rather, those that contain only things necessary for convenience in working, and for comfort and satisfaction in living, and no more.

A house that is well planned, perfectly convenient and comfortable, will also be beautiful. Beauty does not lie so much in the ornaments put on a thing as in the perfect adaptation of that thing to the use for which it is intended.

If a woman tries sincerely to arrange her house according to this idea of adaptation to use, she need not worry about its being "pretty," say household experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. She may not be rich enough to have expensive things, but if she uses harmonious colors for her walls, floors, and upholstery, and chooses furniture for its good design and comfort rather than for its ornamentation, her house can scarcely fail to be restful and attractive. And if with limited means she succeeds in making a convenient, comfortable, and attractive home out of an unpromising, inconvenient farmhouse, she has more to be proud of than if, with the help of an expensive decorator, she had achieved good effects in a house equipped with all modern improvements.

HOW LONG, YE GODS, HOW LONG?

How long will such cankers, such festering sores as some of the pool halls in South San Francisco be allowed to exist and foul the air and smirch the view? There are at least two or three that are disgraces to civilization. One of these was this week accused of defrauding a man out of $1500. The fact that when the proprietors of this joint saw the penitentiary staring them in the face they returned the man's money and persuaded him to drop the charge against them, after he had applied for and been granted a warrant for their arrest, does not make their crime in cheating him the less. Nor does the fact that the man was guilty of a wrong in consenting to gamble with them nor the fact that he lacked the backbone to prosecute them when they returned his money. How many men are they robbing every week that nothing is heard of? How many families in this city are lacking the comforts and perhaps the necessities of life because the men of the families are the prey of these vultures?

Recently The Enterprise urged the cleaning up of this city, and published week after week for over a month letters from prominent citizens supporting it in its campaign for decent conditions here. The Enterprise did not tell at that time all it could have told of what it knows of such joints as the one now complained of. It did not tell all it could have told because of the apathy shown by the authorities. That apathy was evidence that the time was not ripe to bring about the clean-up desired. It did not touch upon a phase that is common report upon the streets, viz., that redlight women from San Francisco are frequent visitors in rooming houses connected with several pool halls here, especially Saturday nights and Sundays, and that the men frequenting the pool halls are directed to these women by the managers and "cappers" in the pool halls. This information is now given to the city authorities. Gentlemen, the selling of "blind pig" booze and the gambling carried on there are not the only evils some of these joints are encouraging in our city.

What will it take to bring about a clean-up here? Will a tragedy do it? Small tragedies like men being robbed and defrauded of money belonging to their families are being enacted constantly. Larger tragedies like the corrupting of the youths of the town are of daily occurrence. The tragedy of a life lost will certainly follow if a halt is not called. It is only a question of time before suicide or murder will follow the orgies taking place constantly in these joints. Must we wait for such a catastrophe for an upheaval and clean-up?

LAY OFF, MR. PRESIDENT

A story comes out of Washington to the effect that the administration will attempt to induce the public to relieve the government of the ten billions of dollars of indebtedness now due it by the allied countries of Europe.

According to report, the plan as tentatively outlined calls for the converting of this indebtedness into long-time bonds of the European governments, these bonds to be sold by our government to the American people at large and the proceeds to be turned into the federal treasury, with a possibility that they may be used in the retiring of liberty bonds.

That would be fine for the federal treasury, but how about the people who buy these bonds? If this huge indebtedness passes into the hands of private individuals, who is going to guarantee that the foreign governments will pay the interest and principal when due?

The only guarantee that would be of any value would be that of the American government, and the government has neither the army or the navy with which to enforce its demands.

Consider our own liberty bonds, which the people were told would soon be at a premium. Are they at a premium now, two years after the war? They are not. Are they even at par? They are not.

We were urged to buy liberty bonds "until it hurt." We bought until it hurt, and after two years of peace it is still hurting—hurting worse than ever because we can not get as much as we paid for them.

If our own government, the strongest on earth and with its vast and inexhaustible resources, is unable to keep the market value of its own bonds at par, why should the people be asked to believe that the bonds of debt-ridden foreign governments will not shrink to even lower levels of value?

According to newspaper reports, Europe has for two years defaulted on the payment of even the interest on the ten billions they owe us. If they can not or will not pay even the interest to the government of the United States, which has the power to apply a certain degree of pressure if it so desires, have we any reason to expect that they would be any more prompt or solicitous in meeting their obligations to private individuals who are without means to apply coercive measures in the collection of the interest and principal due them?

Those ten billions of dollars, money belonging to the people of the United States, were loaned to the European allies by the American government. Let the government plug up the hole in the bag with its own fist, plug it up until it hurts.

Caution warns us, Mr. President, that this is the psychological moment to lay off.

A wave of sickness is expected to engulf this country when the brewers go down to manufacturing authorized beer with a kick for purely medicinal purposes.

HIGH COST OF TALKING

Congresswoman Alice Robertson has appealed to congress to "stop talking and save money."

Right—a dead center shot.

There must be a great surplus of wind in congress when a woman deems it expedient to appeal to the men to talk less at the expense of their countrymen.

The congresswoman estimates that one week of congressional talking costs the country nearly ten thousand dollars in printing bills, and that only covers a part of the expense.

And yet there are two sides to even this question. If our distinguished congressmen were not talking us poor in Washington they might be talking us to death at home. We hate to part with our money, but we are determined to cling to life. Let 'em talk—in Washington.

It is reported that the New York banker has dropped his chorus girl, and that he also dropped about half a million at the same time. Now if he will only efface himself our nostrils may become acquainted with untainted air again.

The number of prize fighters that are springing up leads one to suspect that there is little likelihood of another war in the near future.

A cackle does not always mean an egg. It often produces scandal.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT SCHEME OUTLINED.

edge. The lower deck is divided into bathhouses, two rows, back to back, 10,000 or more in all."

The engineer gives an alluring word picture of people coming from all over the West during the hot months to indulge in the pleasures of this great resort, perhaps the greatest of which would be the bathing in the inland waters pleasantly tempered by the sun's rays over the huge expanse. He also pictures the top of the great encompassing dike, some thirty miles in length, being used as a huge motor speedway, the greatest in the world.

Best Location for Crossing

In justifying the placing of the main bay crossing between South San Francisco and Roberts Landing, Mr. Robbins writes at length on these points as logical centers of travel, picturing Hayward, near Roberts Landing on the east, as a point through which practically all travel coming from the east must pass.

In offering his plan in place of the great San Francisco-Oakland bridge now being boosted, the engineer says:

"Without criticising the recommendations of these gentlemen (Modjeska and Davies) in regard to the best location, type and method of constructing the proposed crossing, we may with propriety criticise the whole plan to construct such a crossing at the present time.

"The bridge will bring a great number of business and shopping automobiles into San Francisco from across the bay, forcing an intolerable congestion upon traffic, not only by reason of the cars parked, but also because of the slow-moving traffic caused by automobiles wandering through the streets searching for places to park.

"There is certain to be a disagreeable congestion of traffic at the terminals during busy hours. Travel over the bridge will necessarily be at a comparatively slow speed.

"Imagine a tourist working his way onto the bridge through crowded traffic, progressing for five miles at truck speed over the bridge, working through crowded traffic in Oakland, turning north out San Pablo avenue with its ugly and bleak environment to Pinole or Martinez or south via Fourteenth street through ten miles of even less attractive surroundings. There will be no pleasure in that; it will require the development of wonderfully attractive objectives to make people ignore the discomforts of crossing the bridge. And people living down the peninsula will have the added trouble and discomfort of driving to the bridge through the unattractive Mission section."

Fogs and winds will add to the discomforts of crossing this proposed bridge, according to the engineer, while the disagreeable surroundings of the proposed bridge are contrasted with the pleasant environment of the peninsula and east bay regions surrounding the terminals of his proposed crossing further south.

Touching upon the magnitude of the undertaking he has sketched, Mr. Robbins says:

"The work proposed is no greater than what has been done and is being done in building levees on the Sacramento river, improving Toronto harbor or developing San Pedro harbor, and it is not so difficult a feat as building the mole at Dover, England, or confining the Colorado to its bed."

The engineer in closing states that patents have been applied for on certain features of his plan.

ALIENS MUST REGISTER OR LOSE CHANCE AS CITIZENS

County Clerk Mrs. E. Nash has issued a warning to aliens that failure to register and pay the state alien poll tax will result in citizenship being refused them. Even aliens who have taken out their first citizenship papers must register and pay the tax, according to Judge W. W. Morrow of the United States district court.

All aliens or persons of foreign birth who have not taken out citizenship papers, who are over 21 years and under 60 years of age, must register before August 1st. Aliens in South San Francisco may register at the office of E. E. Cunningham. It was reported at this office Wednesday that about seventy-five aliens have registered so far.

MRS. LEROY DORN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH NEAR COYOTE

Mrs. Leroy Dorn of this city is in the hospital at Gilroy with a fractured collar-bone and left shoulder, following an accident which occurred on the state highway a short distance south of Coyote, Santa Clara county, Saturday evening. According to a letter received by Jack Skrine of the California Iron Yards, the Dorn family were driving south behind another machine. The other car slowed down and Mr. Dorn was about to pass, when suddenly and without any warning signal the car ahead turned to cross the road. In attempting to avoid a collision, Dorn swerved into the ditch at the side of the road. As he left the paving the car ahead struck the Dorn machine just back of the front wheel, turning it completely over. Mr. Dorn escaped with a badly wrenched shoulder, while Jean, their baby daughter, sustained severe bruises about her head. The other car is registered in the name of M. E. Noble of San Jose.

HIGHWAY CLOSED FOR REPAIRS FROM BELMONT TO REDWOOD

The state highway from Belmont to Redwood City was closed Tuesday for repairs. While these are in progress the road on the east side of the S. P. tracks will be used. When this section is completed, which will require about two weeks, it will be opened and the section from Belmont to Beresford will be closed for repairs.

The Pacific States Construction Company has erected a $16,000 asphalt plant at Belmont for this work. Topsoil topping is to be used on the paving. When the work is completed the contractors state it will be the finest in the county. The Topeka topping is a composite of asphalt and gravel. It has been used successfully in other places, but this is its first use in this county.

Marshal Gaudette left Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Gaudette, for a few days' holiday in Yosemite Valley.

This week saw the beginning of the interior decoration of the postoffice, which work is in the capable hands of John Ellegesen.

The M. & T. Co., B. C., will give a dance Saturday night at California Hall. One of the very best affairs of the kind is promised on this occasion.

Our people are distinctly disappointed at the thought that the coming winter will again witness the muddy and impassable streets.

Mrs. Chris Schmidt of Third Addition will give a whist party at Carpenters' Hall Saturday, July 23d, for the benefit of St. John's Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nasits of First Addition gave a party to a number of friends at their home one evening this week. A pleasant evening resulted for all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Clark entertained a number of friends at their home last Saturday evening. Like all social events given at the Clark home, it proved an affair long to be remembered by every guest.

San Bruno is enthusiastically supporting the petition now being circulated looking toward the electrification of the Southern Pacific. They recognize that when this is an accomplished fact, health and prosperous growth is assured.

Without doubt, by the next meeting of the city trustees there will be presented to Mayor Grundy a very large petition requesting him to remain in office, and attesting to the fact that the citizens of San Bruno have every confidence in his integrity and realize the splendid work he has accomplished for San Bruno. This petition will bear many of the names of those who signed the recall petition.

YEOMEN'S MEETING DRAWS A LARGE GATHERING

DADDIES' CLUB ENTERTAINS BOYS MONDAY EVENING

Monday night the Daddies' Club entertained a number of the boys of San Bruno at California Hall, and a merry time was had. Besides the daddies, a number of the ladies of San Bruno put in an appearance and materially aided in making the evening the very pleasant and enjoyable affair it was. Empey, as usual, kept the youngsters in roars of laughter with his monologue and other linguistic stunts, in addition to which he gave the youngsters a movie entertainment at which Charley Chaplin starred. A tug of war among the boys created a great deal of sport, while that between the daddies proved "unfair," for one of the team got the rope intricately mixed with the piano, with the result that the opposing team had to drag it clear across the hall along with their reluctant opponents, which they did amid great merriment. Mayor Grundy gave an informal and friendly talk to the boys, and told them how pleased the daddies were to greet them as their guests, and that they hoped this would prove only the first of many similar occasions. He then reverted to his own boyhood days, and put the boys wise to some old tricks that he and his comrades used to play when he was a boy, and told them to play them on their parents. We must say we think this is hardly fair, unless the mayor is willing to go fifty-fifty in the lickings that we see looming up in the future for the youngsters, but probably the boys will think a licking more or less is of no great account and decide to run the risk irrespective of the mayor's sharing honors with them.

The enjoyable evening was brought to a close by a supper of coffee and hot dogs, and the way the boys made the dogs hunt cover was a caution. Ode Osborne acted as master of ceremonies, and capably performed the duties of his office. Charles Brose is also entitled to more than honorable mention for the able way in which the preliminaries incident to the affair were carried out under his management as chairman of the committee having the entertainment in hand.

Mistakes and Comebacks.

When the plumber makes a mistake he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake it's just what he expected.

When a judge makes a mistake it becomes a law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

But when an editor makes a mistake—good-night.—The Country Press.

An editor dropped into church for the first time in many years. The minister was in the very heart of the sermon. The editor listened for a while, and then rushed to his office.

"What are you fellows doing? How about the news from the seat of war?"

"What news?"
"Why, all this about the Egyptian army being drowned in the Red Sea. The minister at the church knows all about it, and you have not a word of it in our latest. Bustle around, you fellows, and get out an extra, special edition."—Onward.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF C. OF C. ARE OUTLINED

That the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has been actively at work during the last year is shown by a report of this organization's activities made this week by Secretary H. E. Smith. Some of the Chamber's accomplishments, as embodied in this report, are published below in condensed form:

Won the famous switching case, after a four-year fight. The winning of this case gives South San Francisco a considerable reduction in freight tariffs.

Succeeded in having the Southern Pacific railroad, the Santa Fe and Western Pacific absorb the South San Francisco belt railroad switching charges of $3.50 on each car. Another big saving to factories.

Active in having Swift avenue paved from stockyards to W. P. Fuller plant. Active in getting the Western Union Telegraph Company to locate an office in this city.

Raised about $600 by the New Year celebration and turned same over to the city to be used in beautifying city hall grounds and tree planting.

Have distributed thousands of booklets, descriptive of South San Francisco, throughout the United States and have carried on an extensive correspondence with prospects who may locate here. Active in getting South San Francisco advertised in San Francisco papers. Active in B-B campaign and held a successful B-B meeting. Entertained two flying squadrons of San Francisco boosters. Much favorable comment from San Francisco papers.

Held a very successful Rastall meeting and banquet May 17th, which received much favorable comment and advertising from San Francisco papers and San Mateo county publications.

Now co-operating actively with the San Francisco and Three Cities Chambers of Commerce in agitation for electrification of S. P. to give fast and frequent train service.

Secured additional train service and change of time card on S. P. for benefit of factory employees and traveling public.

Originated the project of a new highway from Daly City to this city, thence south on the east side of S. P. tracks. Have requested county board of supervisors to widen and improve Bay Shore highway. This work is expected to be done.

Started the present demand for a bridge across the bay at Dumbarton and now working to accomplish same.

Originated the idea of all San Mateo county Chambers of Commerce and civic associations joining in a peninsula bureau to consolidate efforts in vital county projects.

New Chamber Headquarters Established new office and display room for the Chamber in the city hall. These quarters have received much praise from callers.

Has asked all factories to give residents of South San Francisco first chance when more help is needed.

Active steps now being taken to get a 5-cent telephone rate to San Francisco.

Chamber has donated money to the China Relief Fund, the Red Cross, and "Save the Redwoods" Fund.

Chamber has given its moral support and approval to the Junior Chamber of Commerce formed here by high school boys.

Much work has been done in conjunction with the United States Chamber of Commerce.

In closing the report, Secretary Smith calls particular attention to the importance to this city of the winning of the "switching case" against the S. P. railroad, and pays a high tribute to the untiring efforts of P. R. Thompson, member of the local Chamber and president of the Civic League of San Francisco, during the numerous hearings of this case.

SPECIAL OFFER
After you have had a free examination, this advertisement will be accepted as a 5 per cent payment.

Physicians are sending people to the dentist's chair every day. Teeth are being extracted that a filling at the proper time would have saved. I make no charge for examination and advice. This office is open from 8:30 A. M. to 9 P. M., Sundays 9 A. M. to 12 noon for the benefit of those who do not want to lose time from their work. I maintain a special service for out of town people.

You cannot buy any better dentistry than ACE DENTISTRY. A written guarantee PROTECTS YOU. Over 15,000 people are recommending my offices to their friends. That is why it is possible to give such good dental work at such low prices.

Plain gratitude prompts me to inform you of the satisfaction I have received from your work. In view of the fact that there was a difference of $40.50 in the price of this work and the price quoted me by _____, I feel, after the workmanship manner in which this work was done, I am not only ahead of the game financially but physically. I was also impressed by the absence of drumming and usual bath of words regarding a sure cure for pyorrhea. Yours truly,
